

The theme of the 2009 coloring contest was “I want to go to college so that when I grow up I can be...” Each winner was selected on overall design, coloring, and creativity. The eight winners will be showcased on a desk calendar to encourage Wisconsin citizens to think about college savings. State Treasurer Sass will present one lucky regional winner with a $1000 EdVest account at an awards ceremony in January.

Congratulations to the following 2009 Higher Education Day regional coloring contest participants who have each won a $250 EdVest account:

- Conner Lawrence from Walworth County who wants to be a police officer
- Rito Evans from Dane County who wants to be an astronaut
- Austin Wein from Grant County who wants to be an archeologist
- Bridget Melan from Ozaukee County who wants to be a violinist
- Hannah Dotzler from Jefferson County who wants to be a zoo keeper
- Frances Meyer from Manitowoc County who wants to be a marine biologist
- Francine Seidel from Taylor County who wants to be a forest ranger
- Haley Piontek from Marinette County who wants to be a veterinarian
